WHAT WE BELIEVE

+

Sustainability

Profit

Businesses of every size and in every sector are under pressure to deliver social and environmental sustainability at the same time as commercial success

OUR APPROACH IS ROOTED IN OUR PILLARS OF POSITIVE CHANGE MMEYE

Partnership

We will work in partnership with you, not for you. Getting to know your business from the inside out and earning your trust.

Planet

Research has little long-term value without sustainability at its core. Each research project is designed and executed to deliver project objectives and simultaneously have a positive social or environmental impact.

People

We know that to make a business truly sustainable, our research must include and benefit all key stakeholder groups and the wider community. This is why we talk to everyone.

Profit

Businesses must be commercially, as well as environmentally, sustainable. We aim for the sweet spot; identifying insights that support environmental, ethical and commercial targets.

WE HELP YOU STEP UP TO THIS CHALLENGE BY ENGAGING WITH YOUR STAKEHOLDERS

By asking the right questions, rooted in human emotion, we unearth valuable insights, enabling you to achieve sustainable competitive advantage and make a positive difference

WE SEE THE WHOLE PICTURE, SO YOU GET A COMPLETE ANSWER

We find out what really matters to your customers, employees, suppliers and wider stakeholders to help your business change the way you work for the better – better for people, planet and profit.

DON'T TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT

MM-Eye delivered research which far exceeded our expectations. They brought us insights which are truly actionable and took the project beyond the realms of delivering research findings, and into the arena of consulting our business, by providing us with relevant recommendations and directive action points

MM-Eye helped us to evidence the positive impact we believed we had on our customers ... The insight they provided not only gave us this evidence but painted real-life pictures of our customers. This research has given us clear, tangible recommendations on how to continue delivering against our business purpose.
